TRAVELLING AGENT.

Mr. Urban E. Hicks is the duly authorized agent of the Daily and Weekly Oregonian, with full powers to receive and receipt for subscriptions, advertisements, &c., and to finally settle all outstanding dues to this office in Washington Territory, Victoria and British Columbia.

Millions of Gold waiting Transportation.

Our merchants are constantly receiving letters from their correspondents at Boise and at other trading points in the mines, full of complaints because of the impossibility of safely sending out the immense amounts of dust now accumulated, which they are very anxious to place in the hands of their creditors, who of course are equally—perhaps a little more anxious to receive it. The miners also would forward to their families and for sale, very considerable quantities, they state, if there were any facilities for doing so. On account of the enormous expense of maintaining Expresses of sufficient strength to be prepared to resist the possible attacks of highwaymen and Indians, none now transport treasure, except in very small sums, and parties coming out are always unwilling to bring or have in charge any more than belongs to them. A gentleman who arrived from Placerville last week, informs us that if he had taken all that he was begged to bring, he should have had over a million dollars worth, and from others we get similar statements.

Such a condition of things of course greatly obstructs business, and is a serious detriment to the mining districts, as well as to the merchants in this city, at the Dalles and in San Francisco, to all of whom it is a matter of serious consequence that transportation of treasure should be possible, safe and regular. We do not know how this can be accomplished, in the present state of the country, unless the Commanding General of this District shall deem it expedient and conducive to the public interests, to permit an armed escort once or twice a month—or as often as may be necessary—to accompany express or treasure trains from the mines to the Dalles, or some other point on the river, whence transportation is possible. Similar government protection is given in British Columbia, and in other countries where the roads from the mines are infested with robbers or other perils, and we do not believe that the small number of troops necessary for the service suggested, could be more judiciously employed, for the advancement and protection of the public welfare on this coast.

THE ATTACK ON SECRETARY EVANS.—It will be seen in our Olympia correspondence—and we learn the same from other reliable sources at the Sound—that another quarrel has broken out in the Federal camp, between the Secretary of Washington Territory, and the incessantly unprincipled and tyrannical Surveyor General. The cause of the difficulty as reported to us was the refusal of Mr. Evans to allow the Henry clique to control his official action. With manly independence, he resented the impertinent interference, and as a consequence of his presuming to perform his official duties in his own way and according to his own judgment, he is threatened with removal by those who pretend to be the vicegerents of the President in the Territory.

We sincerely hope they will fail in their attempts to break down and remove a faithful, honest and competent officer, and we say further that the same spirit manifested in this persecution of the Secretary was the prime and efficient cause of Mr. Raynor's defeat, for its previous exhibitions had disgusted so many Union men—Republicans and Democrats—that while the Henry clique were continued in mischievous and infamous power, the majority would not seem to endorse a nomination which was even only suspected to have been made at their instigation. If Mr. Evans' removal is effected, it will only be another severe blow at the strength of the Union party, and will increase the disgust with which all honest citizens regard the vile schemers in Olympia who only hold office for their personal benefit and to curse the Territory.

POSTAL AGENT.—Mr. Baker, the postal agent for the Pacific coast, arrived in the city last evening, and during his visit, which must necessarily be brief, will make every arrangement in his power for the improvement of mail facilities in Oregon and Washington. It is however, beyond his power to establish routes where none are authorized by law—the only relief in that respect must come from Congress. Our Auburn correspondent will please therefore put the blame for his want of postal accomodation where it belongs, and not on Mr. Baker. We learn from Mr. B. that the mail robber who was arrested in southern Oregon has been discharged by Judge Stratton, before whom he was taken on a writ of habeas corpus. This is to be regretted, as from all we have learned, we are satisfied that he destroyed one letter mail going south, containing letters from this section to California and the Eastern States, and another coming in this direction.

GOOD APPOINTMENT.—Mr. B. G. Whitehouse has been appointed cashier of the California Stage Company, in this city.

Letter from Olympia.

OLYMPIA, W. T., July 28, 1863.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

Nothing of special note has occurred in this quiet village since my last, except the proceedings of the District Court, which has been in session for the past ten days; the most important of which has been the suit brought against the milling and logging establishments for cutting timber on the United States lands, but fortunately for the accused, Uncle Sam has a Prosecuting Attorney who successfully manages to compromise the matter by levying stumpage—of some, more and others less—as the state of their indignation may permit at time of making propositions.

The trial of Horace Howe for the killing of Kendall has been continued until the next term, at instance of the Territory, on account of absence of principal prosecuting witness.

A civil trial is in course of progress between Howe, Sr., and a Mr. Roberts, whose barn was burned, the mention of which by Kendall caused his death afterwards, but as to the merits of this case we know nothing.

Chief Justice Hewitt seems to preside with much dignity, and the members of the bar accord him a fair amount of legal talent and unquestionable integrity. The Judge has elevated his standing very much among the legal fraternity within the past year, and he enjoys the esteem and friendship of all who have tested his ability and integrity.

It is currently reported that the political Warwicks are at work meditating the removal of Secretary Evans, who has only been in office about three months, but in that short period has convinced them that he cannot be controlled and made to acquiesce in all their nefarious plottings, and has thus incurred the displeasure of that august coterie of officials, who claim to be "the particular friends of the President from an acquaintance of twenty years standing." We have not heard the particular sin with which they charge him, except that being an old citizen of the Territory, the imported talent look upon him with suspicion. It is said that the political vampires have sharpened the knife to immolate Secretary Evans, and have already reported him as "fishy" to Uncle Abe. Mr. Evans has a host of friends—has thus far proved a popular and efficient officer, and if he has a fair hearing, will defeat the political stock-jobbers who claim to control the Federal patronage and places in this Territory. The people are heartily sick of these frequent changes. They think this constant turmoil and struggle to remove men should be put an end to; "and would rather bear the ills they have than fly to others they know not of" in a fresh importation.

You have no doubt seen the excuse made by Dr. Henry in the last issue of the Standard, for the defeat of the Union candidate for Delegate, and as a matter of course, know how much truth, or rather how many falsehoods it contains. The attempt to shift the responsibility of this defeat is simply regarded as another evidence of the brazen assumption which has characterized every political act of the Surveyor General, and of his utter blindness to see and understand the estimate which the people put upon his influence and management of political affairs. If all the facts connected with the recent canvass and the influences which affected it could be brought to light, we are certain that a record would appear badly stained with political intrigue, in which the writer of the Standard's leaders, and others connected with that establishment, had no small share. It is only necessary to prove this by referring to the issue of that journal in which was first announced the result of the Union Convention at Vancouver, and the fact that the owner of that paper positively demanded pay from the candidate or his friends before agreeing to place his name at the head of the ticket; also to the private assertion of the writer of the excuse alluded to, that the defeat ought to teach the people a lesson, not to nominate such an obscure man, when other Union men, better known and more competent to represent the Territory in Congress should have been nominated.

The fact is: no man, however honest and capable, or well known he might have been, could have successfully made the race and carried the load that Mr. Raynor was unfortunately compelled to bear. The unpopularity of the men who got up and controlled the Convention, and the belief that the Surveyor General would control his action in Congress more or less, prevented many good and truly loyal men from voting for Mr. Raynor, who would have otherwise given their whole support to the Union nominee. The accusation of Dr. Henry, that the pertinacity of Secretary Chase in keeping Collector Smith in office, who by his order relative to the exportation of beef to Victoria, caused many to withdraw their support from Mr. Raynor, is all "bosh." We do not believe that half a dozen votes were lost in consequence of this; and when it is remembered that a bitter enmity exists between Henry and Smith, it is not reasonable to suppose that the friends of Henry would withhold their support from his candidate on account of the action of Smith. It was the enemies of Henry that beat Raynor; and had Henry been in Smith's place, with a prospect of a speedy removal, and Smith in Henry's place, Raynor would have been elected.

U. E. H

THE SAME SET EXACTLY.—As showing the similarity between the Jeff. Davis and Fernando Wood Democrats, we point to the fact that whenever either one of these valorous and chivalrous wings can do so safely, they commence butchering negroes in cold blood. At Brashear City and Milliken's Bend the Jeff. Davis troopers cut the throats of a few hundreds of these unfortunates, sparing neither age nor sex. During the prevalence of the riots of the Wood wing in New York city, all the time that could be spared from pillage was devoted to shooting negroes. Too cowardly and skulking to face a white man, they are mercilessly valiant in the work of killing old women and helpless children found guilty of having black skins. No pretense is made that the negroes have been guilty of any crime. But it looks so valiant, you see, to take human life. Who could tell that the blood with which they spattered their garments was not that of some stalwart foeman met and vanquished on some fairly fought field? Nobody. So the scenic effect is all the same. God records these most horrible murders, and in due time he will punish the authors, who slay as the wild beasts do, for the mere love of killing.

A NEW TEST.—An applicant for citizenship, a few days since, in San Francisco, was put to a new test. The witnesses whom he brought forward to the stand were particularly questioned by Judge Field as to whether they had ever heard him express any sympathy with the rebel cause, or give utterance, to any disloyal sentiments regarding the prosecution of the war for its suppression by the government. Heretofore the custom has been merely to put a general question and administer a general oath of loyalty, such as was administered before the rebellion was inaugurated.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE DAILY OREGONIAN

LATER FROM THE EAST.

Dates to July 28th.

Longstreet Defeated at Manassas Gap.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Mayor Opdyke vetoed the ordinance passed last week to pay conscripts $300, on grounds of illegality.

By the Roanoke we have dates from Havana to the 10th. It appears that a council of notables declared Mexico through them an Empire, and have proclaimed Maximilian of Austria, Emperor. Should he decline, they implore the French Emperor to select a person in whom he has full confidence to occupy the throne. A proclamation was immediately made public, and a courier posted to Vera Cruz, whence it was sent by French steamer to Havana.

A large fire took place at St. Domingo in the early part of the month, destroying $500,000 worth of property.

Neutral steamers Fanny Alice and Alabama, with cotton from Mobile, had arrived at Havana.

An extensive fire took place at Havana on the 22d ult., destroying $400,000 worth of sugar.

NEW YORK, July 27.—The Post's special dispatches from Washington say released prisoners from Richmond state that within twenty four hours after Jeff. Davis' issuance of conscription proclamation, wholesale conscription commenced.

It is believed that a general exchange of prisoners will soon be effected.

CHICAGO, July 27.—Memphis dates to the 22d, say most of Bragg's army is at Chattanooga, which place is being fortified.

Reliable news in regard to the movements of Lee's and Meade's armies is meagre. Dispatches received at headquarters, Baltimore, say the enemy had disappeared from our front. Our cavalry were near Charlestown Friday, and scouts were out in advance in every direction and no signs of the enemy.

HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, FRONT ROYAL, July 25.—We engaged the enemy yesterday. This morning he appears to have withdrawn, and his whole army is in retreat.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—On the 22d Hill's corps took possession of Chester Gap. Our cavalry attempted to drive him out, but failed. We however held him in check until he was reinforced by Longstreet, when he and Hill came through the Gap and are now probably at Culpepper. Ewell's corps was at Strasburg.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Sterling firm at 130½ @140½. Gold closed steady at 127½. Bank statements show a decrease of loans of $900,000; decrease of specie, $236,000; increase of deposits $814,000.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—Gen. Banks' official dispatch announcing the fall of Port Hudson says he captured 30 pieces of heavy artillery, complete battery numbering 31 pieces rifled artillery, a good supply of projectiles for line and heavy guns, and 45,000 pounds

[Here the lightning became so severe could get nothing further.—SAN FRANCISCO ORS.]

Second Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—A dispatch received by the Navy Department says on the night of the 13th, a large side wheel steamer while trying to run into Charleston, was chased by the Canandaigua and other outside blockaders. She was finally headed off and driven on shore, when she was fired by her crew and is now a total wreck.

Richmond dispatches of this morning contain the following:

MORTON, Miss., July 24.—The enemy evacuated Jackson yesterday. Col. Wirt Adams dashed in and captured a few stragglers. Canton has also been evacuated. Grant's entire army has gone to Vicksburg.

CHARLESTON, July 24—9 P. M.—The bombardment was renewed early this morning, with rapid and continuous firing until a flag of truce went down at 9 o'clock. The attack was renewed again this evening, the enemy occasionally firing at Cummings' Point, Sumter replying heavily. The firing is still going on. Our casualties this morning were three killed and six wounded.

CHARLESTON, July 25.—Regular firing from Fort Sumter and battery Wagner at the Yankees on Morris Island, was kept up all night and continued all day, the Yankees occasionally replying from their batteries. The monitors and the Ironsides lying on the outside took no part. The Yankees have two batteries on Morris Island and have strengthened their position.

Another monitor arrived to-day, making six in all.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—The Washington Star says last evening, the 23d, while the 3d and 5th army corps were lying at the mouth of Manassas Gap, this side, information was received that Longstreet was sending a brigade of his corps forward in order to possess himself of the Gap. Gen. Spinck, commanding the Excelsior brigade, with 8000 men, was ordered forward; the commanding General supposed the rebels to be only in small force bordering the crest of the hill one mile from the Gap between it and Front Royal, it was therefore supposed this brigade would be sufficient to scatter the enemy. About a quarter of a mile from the crest of the hill was a stone wall, and behind this was a small rebel force. Gen. Spinck at once took observation of the ground, and after pointing out to the regimental commanders the work they would have to perform, ordered his gallant brigade forward, the rebels quickly fled from the hill and took refuge behind the stonewall. Our little force pushed on to the wall when from behind it rushed a whole brigade of Georgians and two regiments of North Carolina sharpshooters, all under command of Gen. Anderson. Our troops heeded them not, but amid a shower of rifle and artillery balls, in front and flank, pushed forward and with bayonets drove the rebels from their position, and sent them scampering over the field. The rebel loss was not less than 500 killed, wounded and missing. We had no artillery, the rebels had six pieces. That night our soldiers bivouacked, and on the next morning marched into Front Royal. In this fight, in the opinion of military men, the rebels outnumbered us six to one, but they appeared to be completely fagged out.

MEMPHIS, July 26th.—Reports say that Pemberton and staff, with some officers, have gone to Richmond, but his army is scattered in every direction. Pemberton said it would be impossible to keep them together.

The rebels are forcing everybody into the ranks, both Jews and Gentiles. The excitement is intense.

The bulk of Johnston's army is reported at Martin, twenty miles from Jackson. His army is estimated at 30,000.

CAIRO, July 27th.—Vicksburg dates to the 20th have been received. Before evacuating Jackson, the rebels set the city on fire, and our forces completed the conflagration reducing the city to ashes.

It is thought Johnston started for Tombigbee. Sherman is returning from pursuit, not being prepared for a long campaign.

Among the prisoners captured at Jackson were a number of Vicksburg paroled prisoners. Gen. Sherman ordered three of them to be shot.

DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM.—This popular and truly valuable medicine continues to effect the most astonishing cures; and, if the statements of good citizens are entitled to credit, it is worthy the attention of every CONSUMPTIVE, and a fair trial by all who are troubled with any disease of the Throat or Lungs.

Masonic.—Harmony Lodge, No. 12, F. & A. M., holds stated communications on the 2d and 4th Mondays of each month, at 7 o'clock P. M. Brothers in good standing are invited to attend. By order W. M.

In Every Age of the World the professions have been slow to admit the value of new discoveries, or the expediency of adopting them in practice. It is not to the legal profession that we look for reforms in jurisprudence, neither do we find the advocates of medical reform among physicians. Each deprecates whatever is found to innovate upon received opinions and established usage. Hence the opposition which medical men [illegible] exhibit to the use of private remedies, whatever their acknowledged value, or great efficiency in the cure of disease. No medicine has ever done more for the relief of human suffering than DR. OSGOOD'S INDIA CHOLAGOGUE. The certainty with which it cures Fever and Ague, and eradicates bile from the system is acknowledged by all. Do you prefer a speedy and effectual cure to a regular and scientific run of disease? Try the Cholagogue and the object is accomplished. Then tell your suffering neighbor what it has done for you, that it may do the same for him.

RECORDER'S COURT.—W. S. Ladd and G H. Flanders were brought before the Reco er charged with obstructing the pub streets. The defendants pleaded guilty, a were each fined $5 and costs.

Wm. Cree and T. J. Holmes, charged w obstructing the public streets, were d charged.

George W. Vaughan, charged with t same offense, was fined $10 and costs.

Tung Sing, for depositing a nuisance the street, was fined $5 and costs.

ARRIVED.—The bark Samuel Merritt, Josep Williams commanding, arrived at this p yesterday afternoon. She left San Franci co, July 7th, and for the first ten days out h heavy sea, with strong northwest winds; ne ten days had NNW winds, also attended wi a high sea running, being under reefed sa most of that time; laid off the Bar in calm and thick weather; crossed the Bar on Satu day, at 11 A. M., and was taken in tow b the John H. Couch, at Astoria. The follow ing is her PICAYUNE PROSECUTION.—We learn that th Street Commissioner, instead of taking mea ures for repairing the defective planking i Front streets where there is danger every hou that the City may be subject to heavy dam ages—has been amusing himself by commenc ing frivolous prosecutions against citizens wh are attempting to increase the prosperity an wealth of the city, by erecting brick store and other buildings. On Saturday, he com plained against Messrs. W. S. Ladd, G. H Flanders, Wm. Cree, T. J. Holmes, and per haps others, all of whom had obtained leave t place building material in the streets, but as th leave, (which, by an ordinance very unreas onable in that respect, is only for thirty days had expired, and the parties had failed to re new it, the Commissioner, without givin them the notice which might reasonably hav been expected, dropped on them in all his off cial power, and caused their arrest.

Messrs. Ladd and Flanders, after a fai application for a continuance till next Thurs day, submitted to the fine. Mr. Gree was no guilty, and when the case of Mr. Holmes wa called, the Commissioner was unable to testi fy that the building belonged to him, thoug the day before, in the affidavit, he had swor that it was the property of Mr. H.! So tha case slumped.

We respectfully advise our official friend t attend to the duties of his position, which wi really benefit the city; these will sufficientl occupy his time, nor do we think that th public welfare requires him to charge citizen who have shown a disposition to observe eve unreasonable requirements, with willful ob struction of the streets, when every body knows that such structures as they are puttin up cannot be completed in thirty days.

CONVICT ESCAPED.—A member of Governo Gibbs' chain gang, named Julian Zena, mad his escape from Messrs. Thornally & Simp son's brick yard, on Saturday evening. H killed a Mr. Brady some two or three year since in a flat-boat, near Sauvie's Island, an was sentenced to five years in the State pri on. A reward of $50 is offered for his appre hension. See description in our advertisin column.

EXCURSION.—A number of young gentleme formed an excursion party on Saturday even ing, and chartered the swift little steame Leviathan to peragrate them over the river The Mechanics' band volunteered their ser vices on the occasion, and contributed much to the enjoyment of the evening.

THAT CAKE.—We received on Saturday last a piece of wedding cake and a number o fine apples from Mr. Edward Long, who, on the occasion of his marriage with Mrs Nancy L. Chase, did not, in the excess of hi happiness, forget the wearied typo. We ca assure the happy twain that their gift wa received with pleasure, and ample justice duly rendered unto the same. It is said tha the prayers of the righteous availeth much. In that event the happiness of our consider ate friends is certainly assured.

THE THEATER.—On Saturday last th fine drama of "Jack Cade" was performed a this pleasant place of amusement. We regre that the attendance was but small, as the ad mirable rendering of the play certainly de served a more crowded auditorium. The con cluding farce of "Crowded Houses" created much merriment, the two Von Brooms bein excellently rendered by Messrs. Mortimer and Myers.

J. ROSS BROWNE.—The New York Evening Post says that Mr. Browne, who was in Ore gon some years since as a Special Agent o the Government, will start in a few days for the Pacific coast, on an extended tour of ex ploration in the Western Territories, particu larly Idaho. He has a commission from the Government to visit and report upon the con dition of the Indian tribes of that vast region, and is also charged to examine the mineral and agricultural resources of the Pacific Ter ritories.

THE BRICK STORE AND LOT—[illegible] Front street corner of Oak now occupied by A B RICHARDSON, Auctioneer — Enquire of ALLEN & LEWIS

John Clarke and his Fortune.

'Never mind the house, John; we've got one of our own,' whispered John Clarke's wife.

She was a bright little thing only twenty years old. And how brightly and bewitchingly she shone!—a star among the sombre company.

'But what in the world has he left me?' muttered John Clarke. 'I believe he hated me—I believe they all hate me.'

'Hush, dear!' said his wife.

'I bequeath to John Clarke, my dearly beloved nephew,' read the grim attorney, 'as a reward for his firmness in resisting temptation during the last two years, and his determination to improve in all acceptable things, my one-horse chaise, which has stood in my barn more than twenty-five years, requesting that he will repair it, or cause it to be repaired, in a suitable manner.'

That was all. Some of the people who were present tittered, and all seemed to enjoy the confusion of the poor young man. His eyes flashed fire—he trembled excessively; poor little Jenny fairly cried.

'To think,' she said to herself, 'how hard he has tried to be good, and that is all he thought of it.'

'Wish you much joy!' said the red-headed youth, with a broad grin, as he came out of the room.

John sprang up to collar the fellow, but a little white hand, laid on his arm, restrained him.

'Let them triumph, John—it won't hurt you,' said Jenny, with her sunny smile, 'pray don't notice them, for my sake.'

'Served him right,' said Susan Spriggs, the niece of the old man just dead, to whom he had left a good deal of his money; 'served him right for marrying that ignorant goose of a Jenny Brazier. I suppose he speculated a good deal on the old man's generosity.'

To which she added, in a whisper that only her own heart heard:

'He might have had me—he had the chance; and I loved him better than any one else—better than that pretty little simpleton, Jenny Brazier.'

'Now we shall see how deep his goodness is,' said a maiden aunt. 'He became very pious just because he expected a fortune from my poor dead brother; but we must see how much of a change there is in John Clarke—he always was an imp of wickedness.'

'Well, I think John Clarke will have to be contented with his little cottage,' said the father of Susan Spriggs, to good old Joe Hemp.

'Well, I think he is content; if he ain't, he ought to be, with that little jewel of a wife,' was Joe's reply.

'Pshaw, you're all crazy about that gal,' said Spriggs. 'Why, she ain't to be compared at all with my Susan. Susan plays on the forty piano like sixty, and manages a house first-rate.'

'Bless you, neighbor Spriggs, I'd rather have that innocent, blooming face to smile at me when I waked up of mornings than all the forty piano gals.'

'I'd like to know what you mean?' exclaimed Mr. Spriggs, firing up.

'Just what I say,' replied good old Joe, coolly.

'Well, that John Clarke 'll die on the gallows yet, mark my words,' said Mr. Spriggs, spitefully.

'That very same John Clarke will make one of our best men yet,' replied old Joe, complacently.

'Doubt it,' said Mr. Spriggs.

'Yes, maybe you do,' said Joe, 'and that's a pretty way to help a young fellow, ain't it, when he is trying to do his best? No! John Clarke won't be a great man if you can help it. People that cry mad dog are plaguey willing to stone the animal while he is running, and, if he ain't mad, they're sure to drive him so. Why don't you step up to him and say, John, I'm glad you're going right now, and I've got faith in you; and if you want any help, come to me, and I'll assist you? That's the right way to do the business, Mr. Spriggs.'

'Well, I hope you'll do it, that's all,' replied Spriggs, sulkily.

'I hope I shall; and I'm bound to do so if I have the chance. Fact is, he's got such a smart little wife that he don't really need any help.'

'No? it's a pity, then, that brother Jacob left him that one-horse chaise.'

'You needn't laugh at that; old Jacob never did anything without a meaning to it. That old chaise may help him to be great yet. Fact is, I think myself, if Jacob had left him money, it might have been the ruin of him. Less things than a one-horse chaise have made a man's fortune.'

'Well, I'm glad you think so much of him; I don't,' said Spriggs.

'No,' muttered Joe, as his neighbor turned away; 'but if he had married your raw-boned darter, that plays on the forty piano, he'd been all right.'

'A one-horse chaise,' said Spriggs, laughing; 'what a fortune!'

And so it went from mouth to mouth. None of the relatives—some of them already rich—had offered the poorest man among them (the owner of a one horse chaise) any of the bequeathment left to him or her; but they had rather rejoiced in his disappointment.

The truth is, that everybody had prophesied that John Clarke, a poor motherless boy, would come to ruin, and they wanted the prophesy to prove a true one. He had in his youth been wild and wayward, and somewhat profligate in the early years of his manhood; but his old uncle had encouraged him to reform—held out hopes to which he had hitherto been a stranger; and the holy love of the sweet young Jenny Brazier completed, as it seemed, his reformation.

Jenny never appeared so lovely as she did on that unfortunate day of the reading of the will, after they had returned to the poor little house that was Jenny's own.

'No matter, John,' she said, cheerfully, 'you will rise in spite of them. I wouldn't let them think I was in the least discouraged; that would please them too well. We are doing finely now; and you know if they cut the railroad through our bit of land, the money will set us up quite comfortably. Isn't our home a happy one if it is small? And oh! John, by and by.'

An eloquent blush—a glance toward her work-basket, out of which peeped the most delicate needlework—told the story; that ever new story, innocence, beauty and helplessness.

(Concluded To-morrow.)

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor whiskey, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles, and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters; which instead of curing, only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public; and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that "HOOFLAND'S German Bitters" will cure nine-tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers, on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters:"

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans.—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr. Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months; for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian, from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade, Mr. Malone, restored to life.
